A word from your Baroness:

I have been in the SCA for over 13 years now and I still find something new every time I go to an event. And, I find a new way to be enthused. So, my question to you is, what makes you enthusiastic about this hobby that we play? What keeps you motivated? Has this changed since you first started playing? I hope that this keeps happening because it might be easy to get bored and you may be tempted to stop. Please don't. There is so much to learn and enjoy in this game and we need you!

On a side thought, we are now entering the active hurricane season and since we are spread out across the county, I ask that everyone be safe and be prepared. After each storm, please check out your neighbors and then, if you can, check in with the barony on Facebook. The mom in me wants to make sure that all is well with each of you. See all soon!

YIS,

Katharine
Baroness Raven's Cove

From the Baron:

Greetings to the Barony,

Summer is upon us and so is the ENC heat. Fighters should always be careful in this heat, but everyone needs to be aware. I'm not going to beat this horse more than that.

Pennsic, of course is also upon us, but most of us will not be there. Officers, and others waiting for anything from Kingdom or Society, need to realize the organization grinds to a snails pace this time of year. We also need to start considering some great Fall events that are coming up soon. Peasant's Revolt, Baronial Birthday, University, MATO, and WOW will soon be upon us.

Time to start sharpening swords, and hopefully finishing some projects(good luck with that). Looking forward to a great summer with you all,

Torquil MacTaggart
Baron Raven's Cove

From the Seneschal:

Greetings from your Seneschal!

The fighting season is in full swing and it has been great to see our numbers growing on the field and in our populace. We have had successful demos and have seen interest in our area in new people joining. Sadly, the time has come for us to bid a fond farewell to Lord Rowland and Lady Una. I wish them the best of luck in their endeavors. I am happy that Lady Murienne has agreed to be our new Chatelaine and cannot wait to see what great things she brings to our group and helping it expand. We will have an opening for Chronicler. If you are interested, please let me know as soon as possible so that process can be completed. We are currently looking for new areas to expand our borders to and are talking about hosting some events in the not too distant future. Everyone remember Peasant's Revolt coming up in August; let's show our support to our neighbors in Cathanar. I hope everyone enjoys their holiday and I wish everyone safe travels wherever you may roam during the Summer.

In Service,
Lady Edan Lowery, Seneschal

From the Knight's Marshal

From the Knight's Marshal
Another hot month is upon us. As we enter a period of minor down time for those of us not attending Pennsic War, let us begin to turn our eyes towards War of the Wings. We have already conducted one war practice with the information that Lord Roland brought back from the North. We shall continue down this road, as well as see to the training in the use of spear and crossbow as we prepare to lend our growing might to the struggle. Remember as always to hydrate.

~L

From the Chiurgeon

HYDRATE.....and watch each other for any signs of heat illness.

~L

From the Exchequer

Greetings from the Exchequer,

Baronial coffers remain as they have been, at a little over 1500.00.

In service,
Lady Amira of Raven's Cove
Exchequer Barony of Raven's Cove

From the Chatelain

I would like to take this space to thank the populace, old and new, of the Barony of Raven's Cove for all they have done for Una and I in the four wonderful years we've lived here.

Any newcomer that is lucky enough to join up with Raven's Cove is in good hands. This is by far the most welcoming and supportive group that I have had the pleasure to be a part of. I feel like I will always have a home with Raven's Cove.

Yours in service to the dream,

Lord Roland Wodeman
